

Melinda Marble is the Executive Director of The Paul and Phyllis Fireman Charitable Foundation, Boston, Massachusetts. For this private family foundation, she has developed One Family Inc., an effort to address family homelessness through partnerships that promote permanent solutions. She also administers a grant program that funds a wide range of issues affecting families in the Greater Boston area. She has more than 30 years experience in the nonprofit sector. Ms. Marble is married to Jay Cantor, a novelist and English Professor at Tufts University, and they have a daughter, Grace. They live in Cambridge, Massachusetts.